State Auditor's Office Provides New Financial Intelligence Tool

The Office of the Washington State Auditor has now provided public access to their Financial Intelligence Tool (Fit), which is a tool that the City of Tenino has been using for the past two years to better manage the City's finances.

- We encourage you to explore this tool as relates to the City of Tenino because it will help you, our citizens, to better understand why we do some of the things we do in regard to financial management and because we are committed to open government and transparency in all that we do.
